Linux Foundation announces Mavenir as new Silver member

The Linux Foundation, the nonprofit organization enabling mass innovation through open source, announced that 18 new organizations have joined the Foundation as Silver members including Mavenir

SAN FRANCISCO, CA – June 30, 2017: The Linux Foundation, the nonprofit organization enabling mass innovation through open source, announced that 18 new organizations have joined the Foundation as Silver members. Linux Foundation members help support the development of the greatest shared technology resources in history while accelerating their own innovation through open source leadership and participation.

With the support of its members, The Linux Foundation hosts open source projects across technologies including networking, security, cloud, blockchain and more. This collaborative development model is helping technology advance at a rapid pace in a way that benefits individuals and organizations around the world.

“The Linux Foundation is proud to welcome the support of such a great group of new Silver members,” said Jim Zemlin, executive director, The Linux Foundation. “These organizations are taking this step which demonstrates their immense dedication to the open source community and principles.”

In addition to joining the Foundation, many of these new members have joined Linux Foundation projects such as Automotive Grade Linux, Cloud Native Computing Foundation, EdgeX Foundry, Hyperledger and Open Network Automation Platform (ONAP).
